Spectacular Three-Alarm Fire Guts Coast Millwork Plant Destroying $150,000 Worth Lumber and Paint

VANCOUVER—A spectacular three-alarm fire early Sunday raced through the John Sigurdson Millwork Co. plant in Vancouver's False Creek industrial area, destroying $150,000 worth of high grade lumber and paint.

Lt. Walter Carlie, one of the 10 firemen injured, was dragged unconscious from the burning wreckage after a falling timber struck him on the head. It is estimated 300 fire fighters were called to battle the flames which towered a hundred feet in the air, lighting the entire industrial area. A complete investigation was started today.

Meanwhile, the wet cleaning plant of Vancouver Carpet Cleaning Co., Dunbar district, was destroyed last night by a fire of undetermined origin. Damage was set at $25,000.

Firemen fought for more than an hour to prevent the fire spreading to the dry cleaning plant housing hundreds of gallons of explosive cleaning fluid in an adjacent building.

Earlier, more than 100 box cars were threatened in a fire that broke out in the National Harbor Board yards in the east end district. The inside of an Atlantic Coast Lines car was gutted. Damage was set at $10,000, with a lighted cigarette dropped in the car blamed for the fire.

KING'S HEALTH IMPROVING

LONDON—Doctors report improvement in the health of the king. A week ago, His Majesty cancelled all public engagements because of an arterial ailment. Seeing his legs. A bulletin issued by the five doctors attending him said: "As a result of relief from walking, standing and fatigue, improvement in his health is apparent."

This is an important factor in re-establishing arterial circulation in his feet, which also is being encouraged by medical and physical measures. Restoration of circulation is a slow process extending over a period of months.

COOL SHOULDER FOR CHIANG'S WIFE

WASHINGTON—Madame Chiang Kai-shek's arrival here this week is expected to touch off a drive for United States aid for the Chinese Nationalists. Authoritative informants say, however, that she will be shown "every courtesy" but given to understand there is little sympathy for her unofficial mission.

This attitude is shown in the hands-off policy of the state department. There was no expression of welcome and no official word of arrangements which might be made to expedite her mission after Wednesday's arrival.

YOUNG WHIGS WANT COALITION ENDED

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS—Termination of British Columbia's Liberal-Progressive Coalition was approved unanimously by the B.C. Young Liberal Association at its first two-day convention here Saturday. Sam McCrae, Vancouver, was elected president. In the coalition debate, speaker after speaker urged immediate Liberal organization for the next election in every constituency. The convention also urged the repeal of the provincial three percent sales tax "as soon as federal funds are available to replace the funds now derived from the sales tax."

The resolution anticipated further federal funds under the dominion-provincial agreements. The convention also asked for extension of the franchise to "all classes of citizens to whom it may be denied," and supported the adoption of a single transferable vote in federal and provincial elections.

TWO KILLED AFTER ARGUMENT

TILSONBURG, Ont.—A farm laborer shot and killed his former employer, critically wounded the latter's wife and then committed suicide in the Tilsonburg hospital after driving the injured woman to the institution early Sunday, police said.

Dead are: Bruno Gudavitch, 48, Ottaville farmer, and John Matulevicius, employed on a farm where Gudavitch was a share grower. Mrs. Gudavitch, 27, struck by three bullets, is in a critical condition. Police said the shooting followed an argument.

THREE GRAIN TITLES FOR CANADIANS

CHICAGO—Canada captured three kingships in wheat, oats and soy beans Sunday as the famed International Grain and Hay Show rolled into full swing. Scoring over 100 entries from the best American and Canadian wheatlands, Sidney John Allison, Red Deer, Alta., won the coveted title of wheat king by becoming a three-time winner in the great midwest competition and add a new crown to his world wheat championship won at Ontario's Royal Winter Fair.

Winch Issues Challenge To Hold Public Debate On Political Matters

HAROLD WINCH, leader of the opposition in the provincial legislature, issued an 11th hour challenge to Coalition supporters to meet him on a public platform to debate the merits of socialism versus free enterprise. The challenge was made during the question period at the CCF rally held in the Scout Hall Friday night which wound up the political campaign in South Okanagan constituency. Mr. Winch agreed with a questioner that so many vital issues facing the people of this province had been "kicked around" by politicians, and the CCF leader heartily agreed that the public should be given an opportunity to hear various subjects debated on a public platform.

Speaking before an audience of 350 people Mr. Winch also denied that CCF candidates are "hand picked" for an election. Referring to a Coalition statement that "there are no strings on that man Browne-Clayton," Mr. Winch said CCF candidates are "nominated in a democratic manner, but their names go before an executive council. I can't think of more than one instance where the executive council has not approved of a candidate."

Mr. Winch, along with O. L. Jones, M.P. (Yale) voiced strong support of Bruce Woodsworth, CCF standard-bearer in today's by-election. His sole opponent is Bob Browne-Clayton, Coalition candidate.

The C.C.F. member for Vancouver East said his party is in full support of the B.C. hospital insurance plan. "It is a step in the right direction. We are glad to see it coming into effect on January 1, but the C.C.F. will do its part to see that it is expanded to include medical services," he said.

He attacked the dominion-provincial agreement signed by former premier John Hart which he termed "a sell-out." Challenging a statement made by Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb that the C.C.F. opposition did not oppose the signing of the agreement when the matter was discussed in the legislature, Winch said "we were given the assurance that a conference would be called immediately to implement the remainder of the 'green book' proposals."

CITY WOULD EXTEND CIVIC VOTING RIGHT

If the city council has its own way, the spouse of any property owner will be allowed to vote in civic elections. A resolution to this effect was drafted by city fathers Monday night and will be sent to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities.

Heavy Vote at Advance Poll

By-election Candidates

BOB BROWNE-CLAYTON

The eyes of British Columbia—and the entire Dominion for that matter—are focussed on the South Okanagan and Rossland-Trail constituencies today as the 24,000-odd voters in both ridings trek to the polls to elect a new representative in the provincial legislature. In the Okanagan, there are 12,949 eligible voters, while in the Kootenay riding, 11,754 people can exercise their franchise. The hectic political campaign came to an end on Friday night and observers believe it will be a nip and tuck race.

Bob Browne-Clayton is the Coalition standard-bearer, while Bruce Woodsworth, son of the founder of the CCF movement, is his party's candidate.

Polls opened this morning at 8 o'clock, and will close at 8 p.m. First returns should be available about an hour after polls close. In

BRUCE WOODSWORTH

Kelowna, where voting is taking place at the Scout Hall, there are 5,671 people on the voters' list.

Last night's wisp of snow soon melted this morning. A low ceiling surrounded the mountain-tops in Kelowna, and the temperature was well above the 40 degree mark this afternoon, giving little excuse for people not exercising their franchise. Special arrangements have been made for taking the vote in the Kelowna hospital.

Both Coalition and CCF campaign headquarters were making a major drive to get supporters to the polls, while the Junior Chamber of Commerce had a fleet of cars to "Get-out-the-Vote."

Observers believe a record vote will be cast in today's by-election.

Observers Believe Result to Depend on 4,790 New Voters

Total of 12,949 People Eligible to Cast Ballots in Today's South Okanagan By-Election—Polls Close at 8 p.m. Tonight—Both Coalition and C.C.F. Candidates Confident of Victory—Results Should be Available One Hour After Polls Close

Close Fight Predicted

A LIGHT fall of fresh snow greeted electors of South Okanagan constituency this morning when they trekked to the polls to elect a new representative in the provincial legislature.

And judging from the number of votes cast in the three-day advance poll held in the Kelowna fire hall, a heavy vote may be recorded. Polls opened at 8 a.m. and will close at 8 p.m. First returns should be available an hour after the polls close.

Total of 55 people cast ballot at the advance poll in the fire hall, which, according to Returning Officer W. S. King, is "exceedingly heavy compared with previous elections." Voting was fairly light during the early morning hours, but stepped up during lunch time. Mr. King estimated that around 1,500 people had voted up to 1 o'clock this afternoon. However, during late afternoon and evening many people usually turn out and vote.

An unaccustomed silence fell on this riding when the political guns ceased fire Friday night, and as the 12,949 eligible voters marched to the polls today, both Bob Browne-Clayton, Coalition candidate, and Bruce Woodsworth, CCF standard-bearer, expressed confidence in victory. Political observers in South Okanagan constituency and in the Rossland-Trail riding where another by-election is also being held today, agree it will be a close fight. It's nip and tuck.

But politicians attach great significance to these by-elections as next year is election year for B.C. Last May, the Yale federal constituency left the traditional Liberal-Progressive Conservative fold, and sent a CCF candidate to the federal house. Today's vote may indicate whether the mid-summer leftward swing spelled a general trend or purely a local feeling.

Woodsworth was given a slight edge a week ago to take the South Okanagan by-election, but since Premier Eyron Johnson and Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb have been stumping the riding, the government leaders have won considerable support. Some observers believe that if the Coalitionists win today's by-election, it will be a personal victory for Premier Johnson.

The government's social security tax provided most of the powder for the political guns, and many people believe that Mr. Johnson's explanation of the necessity of the tax, alleviated the fears of many coalition supporters, and at the same time captured some support from the opposition.

The fight for political honors in the Rossland-Trail riding is also a nip and tuck affair. In that West Kootenay constituency, the average individual is offering cash money on the outcome of the vote. The coalition candidate is Douglas Turnbull, metallurgist, while CCF standard bearer is James Quinn, 41-year-old first aider in the Consolidated Mining and Smelting plant.

In the South Okanagan constituency, observers believe the outcome of the Coalition-CCF fight will depend on how the 4,790 new voters in this riding will cast their ballots. A total of 12,949 people are eligible to vote, which is an increase of 58.6 per cent since the 1945 provincial election. In the 1941 election, there were 7,312 people on the voters' lists. The increase in the area during seven years of Coalition government have been 77 per cent.

Both the South Okanagan and Rossland-Trail seats were formerly held by the Coalition government. The Rossland-Trail seat was vacated by the death of James L. Webb, a CCF member of the legislature. A. C. Bennett, who resigned to contest a federal by-election vacancy, the Johnson-Anscomb, Liberal-Progressive Conservative Coalition government (then Hart-Anscomb) was formed seven years ago for the main purpose of putting the entire Courier.

Heart Condition Proves Fatal to J. B. Spurrier, Well Known Sportsman

ONE of the most prominent sportsmen in the Interior of British Columbia, and a man who was responsible for conservation of game and the restocking of fish in lakes and streams, Joe Spurrier, died in the Kelowna General Hospital early Monday morning. He was 62 years of age, and had resided at 470 Buckland Avenue.

Mr. Spurrier was taken to hospital on November 17 after attending the initial game of the Okanagan-Mainline hockey league the previous night. It is understood he got too excited at the game, and a heart condition was responsible for his death.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, but the service may be held on Thursday. Day's Funeral Chapel is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Spurrier came to Kelowna in 1922 after operating a stock ranch at Louis Creek, north of Kamloops for five years. It was while he was in the ranching business that he became fully acquainted with fishing and hunting conditions in the north end of the Okanagan.

A member of the executive of the Kelowna and district Rod and Gun Club for many years, Mr. Spurrier was also president of the Interior Fish and Game Association. He took active interest in various sports, and was one of the main instigators for the establishment of a fish rearing pond in East Kelowna.

After coming to the city, he purchased the Crawford's book store on Bernard Avenue, and operated Spurrier's Sporting Goods Store until February, 1946, when he sold his interests to Robin Kendall and A. Lloyd-Jones. The store still bears Mr. Spurrier's name.

As a youth, he took an active interest in hockey and lacrosse in Eastern Canada. For years he advocated the construction of an arena in Kelowna, and ironically he was taken to hospital after witnessing his first hockey game in Kelowna on artificial ice.

Although advised by his physician to take things easy after retiring from business, Mr. Spurrier lived an active life, and since the shooting season opened, went on two hunting expeditions.

On the opening day of the duck season, he took a party of 20 people over the Hamilton range, and he was the main chef for the entire group. On October 10, he also went hunting with W. R. Maxson, game warden, and between them, they bagged a moose.

"I have known Joe Spurrier for the past 38 years, and he was one of the greatest sportsmen," Mr. Maxson declared. "He was responsible for preservation of game and wild life. He will be missed by everyone."

SELL BUILDINGS

City Council Monday night approved selling the old buildings on the civic airport to James W. Gamble for $25. The money will be earmarked for airport development.

Immediate Completion of Naramata Road to Be Pressed by Trade Board

IMMEDIATE completion of the Naramata road will be pressed by the Kelowna Board of Trade.

This important decision was the outcome of a lengthy discussion during Thursday night's general dinner meeting at the Royal Anne Hotel. The resolution, approved unanimously, will be forwarded to the provincial government, urging that the work be done without delay.

Anticipation of a traffic deluge when the Hope-Princeton highway is opened next summer has stirred up the partially dormant question of completing the road on the east side of Okanagan Lake. One of the speakers in favor of the Naramata road Thursday night said there is "no question in the records of the board so old as the Naramata road."

Logically, economically and militarily, construction of a road on the east side of the lake was generally felt by the meeting to be the logical solution.

Even with more ferries plying between here and Westside the increased traffic could not be handled, members agreed. A bridge of any description seemed out of the question. Apart from other considerations, spokesmen held the bridge would cost more than an east side highway and would become a vulnerable military target in the event of war.

R. P. MacLean stated he recently conferred with cabinet ministers and said the government is well aware of the situation. He opined there is more likelihood of the government constructing the Naramata road than building a bridge.

Two of the more important possibilities foreseen by board of trade members were:

1. With the opening of the Hope-Princeton highway, the Okanagan would become part of the Trans-Canada Highway.
2. Government improvement of the west side road from the ferry wharf.

Novel Idea

The Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce has for years urged the public to exercise their franchise through the get-out-the-vote committee. Every year new ideas are tried in an effort to get the people to vote. This year, Don Clark, director of the get-out-the-vote campaign, hit upon what is considered the most original idea ever tried in Canada or the U.S.

This morning, when citizens of Kelowna went to their front porch to pick up their bottle of milk, they found around the neck of the bottle a card urging them to get out and vote. At the bottom of the card was a small perforated stub which, when deposited in a special box located near the polls, entitled the voters to a chance to win a $50 draw sponsored by the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mickey's taxi company was granted permission to use one street stand at 1443 Ellis Street, in the vicinity where the taxi firm is constructing a new building. Council made the ruling following a complaint from Rudy's Taxi that the former company was still using a stand at 1485 Ellis Street.

$3,000 MAY BE EARMARKED FOR AIRPORT

Three thousand dollars may be turned over by the Kelowna Board of Trade for the development of the Ellison air field.

This sum represents the money now held by the board from the sale this year of the Rutland property adjacent to the Rutland air strip.

At Thursday night's general dinner meeting, the board of trade passed a resolution to use the $3,000 for the Ellison development subject to the approval of the original donors whose money made the purchase of the Rutland property possible.

President Terry Greenwood advised the membership the board was holding in trust some $13,000 of the $25,000 raised last year to bring Sir Malcolm Campbell to the Okanagan to try for a new world speedboat record.

This is anything but a dead matter," said Mr. Greenwood when he was asked if the speedboat king had planned to come next summer. "Sir Malcolm has indicated by letter to look forward to coming to Canada at the first opportunity," Mr. Greenwood said.

Lake Down in Time
Actions of the Okanagan watershed flood control committee were praised by several members of the board. Mr. Greenwood said that all basements in the city were believed now to be free of water and he thought Okanagan Lake would be down sufficiently to handle the spring freshets.

Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games was singled out for special tribute as head of the committee. Vernon's mayor, T. R. B. Adams, was credited by Mr. MacLean with being a "tower of strength in the discussion."

THREE CHIMNEY FIRES SUNDAY

Three chimney fires—two of them partially attributed to the afternoon's high winds had firemen on the jump yesterday. In all cases damage was negligible.

A general alarm sent trucks speeding to the home of J. Armentau, 649 Cadder Ave., at 1:15 p.m. yesterday. Five minutes later firemen were called to the home of H. Malakoff, 1645 Bertram St. At 7:35 p.m. firemen extinguished a chimney fire at the home of H. Pettman, 228 Lake Ave.

The Naramata Road

At its general meeting on Thursday evening the Kelowna Board of Trade again went on record as urging the immediate construction of the eastside road between Okanagan Mission and Naramata. The word "again" is used because this matter has been an active project of the Board of Trade for several decades.

There have been times, it is true, when immediate expediency forced the board and other community organizations in Kelowna to temporarily direct their efforts towards an improvement in the ferry service across the lake, but, always, the completion of the Naramata Road has been the ultimate object.

Indeed, so strongly did this community feel that a logical road could be built on the east side of the lake that the citizens themselves decided to build it and did indeed construct several miles of a very passable road south of Okanagan Mission. This volunteer but enthusiastic effort was brought to a conclusion when at the outbreak of war, manpower was depleted due to enlistments and the diversion of activities to more urgent war work. At that time, too, the Board of Trade agreed to cease its advocacy of the road until the completion of the war.

The Board of Trade is justly concerned about the traffic problem which will present itself at the ferry when the Hope-Princeton road is opened to the public early next fall. It can be said, too, that highway department officials are equally concerned. The opening of the Hope-Princeton inevitably will increase the flow of traffic up and down the Okanagan. This can be appreciated when it is realized that Sicamous will be actually closer to Vancouver via the Hope-Princeton than it will be via the Fraser Canyon. In addition driving conditions will be vastly superior. This can mean only one thing: a very great deal of the east-west traffic will use the Hope-Princeton, come up the Okanagan and over the Big Bend.

That, indeed, is the logical road. But it will be affected by the ferry bottleneck right here at Kelowna. Some envision cars lined up well towards Westbank. They may be a little over-enthusiastic, but, even discounting their enthusiasm, it is evident that the ferry will be a very serious hindrance to traffic when the Hope-Princeton is opened.

There are some who advocate a bridge across the lake. The Board on Thursday night realistically faced the fact that the Naramata Road is more practical and easier to obtain than a bridge. The construction of a bridge may come, but it will be many years hence and the Okanagan and the government cannot afford to wait that length of time to solve the bottleneck problem which is developing.

The supporting of the Naramata Road does not mean that the Kelowna Board of Trade is turning its back upon the west-side to the lake. The contrary, of course, is true. The westside is growing and its prospects for future development are considerable. The VLA settlement, alone, will bring a hundred new families into the area. Westside people using the ferry will find the increased traffic more of a detriment than an advantage. They will be forced to go back to the long lineups and delays which are both costly and irritating. The Board of Trade believes that with two ferries and a twenty-four hour service, the west side can be well served and that there will be always sufficient traffic to warrant this service. But no ferry service can handle the whole volume of north and south traffic which the Okanagan will experience.

With the Naramata Road available,

"TROJAN HORSE" MAY CARRY ATOM AGAINST CANCER

By FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Scientists are seeking a chemical "Trojan Horse" to carry atomic energy against man's worst disease enemy—cancer.

Radioactive by-products of atom-bomb development have the power to destroy cancer by direct "bombardment." These by-products are the "radioisotopes"—man-made, ray-emitting forms of chemical elements found in nature.

But most of these can not be used in effective amounts in the human body. The few that can be used can not be always "aimed" properly at the wily cancer target.

There have been a few real "hits"—against a few cases of thyroid cancer—but that's all. The thyroid is a gland in the neck.

What the scientists would like to find—and they have made some exploratory progress—is some dependable means of getting their radioactive ammunition right inside the cancer fortress without doing damage on the way. They are seeking some chemical which cancer—and cancer alone—will attract to itself. If they find such a thing, then they would attempt to load this "trojan horse" with enough radioactive stuff to destroy the cancer.

Except in the case of thyroid cancer—and in only a few selected instances of that—it has so far been impossible to find a dependable means of concentrating fire on cancer areas without endangering healthy tissue.

Many of the radioactive isotopes are useless for the direct treatment of cancer because they are poisonous. Radioactive arsenic is an example. The radioactive power of some others is far too lasting for the body to tolerate. Take for example, radioactive carbon "14." In 5,000 years only half its original radiating power would have dissipated. This body could not tolerate such a substance even for a few minutes.

But there are a few radioisotopes which are non-poisonous and with radiating power of relatively short duration. Radioactive iodine and phosphorus have proved to be the best bets so far.

Iodine tends to concentrate naturally in the thyroid gland. Phosphorus is attracted naturally to the blood-producing centres, the bone marrow, the spleen, the lymph glands.

But cancer is a different story—the cancerous thyroid often does not pick up so much of the radioactive iodine as does normal thyroid tissue. Hence, thyroid cancers can not always be destroyed by iodine "bombardment."

A tiny step has been taken toward finding a "Trojan Horse" that might carry radioiodine to cancerous tissue other than thyroid.

At the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research in New York, nature's "antibodies" are being used as carriers in animal tests. Antibodies are substances in the tissues which act in opposition to certain harmful materials, such as toxins and bacteria.

Sloan-Kettering researchers have extracted antibodies from the livers and kidneys of rats and mice. They have "tagged" these antibodies with radioiodine and reinjected them into other rats and mice. The antibodies head straight for the liver and kidneys carrying strong radioactive dosages.

The human ear, it is estimated, can distinguish 500,000 different tones.

Let's take hockey for what it is—a good, fast entertaining sport. Let's not besmirch it by our own foolish actions, peanuts and paper on the ice, oaths and obscene gestures. These things if continued will drive decent people away from the sport. They have before now and may well do so again.

In this the arena commission has a responsibility, too. This responsibility, it seems to The Courier, is to remove such people as the man-of-the-gestures from the arena— pronto. He was warned by an official, but the quick appearance of a policeman to conduct him from the premises would be the most salutary lesson he and his ilk could receive. Kelowna and Kelowna hockey can well do without the peanut-throwing and gesturing type of spectator.

Let's take hockey for what it is—a good,

ANALYST FINDS RUSSIAN WORKER IS INEFFICIENT

By CLARKE BEACH
WASHINGTON (AP)—An authoritative diplomatic report says that low productivity of Russian labor is one of the most serious drags on Soviet industrial recovery.

"Soviet labor takes more man hours to do a given job than labor in any other developed country," says the document.

However, the report concludes that despite low quality of labor and other handicaps, Russia as a whole now is producing nearly the same total of goods as in 1946.

The report does not estimate how close Russia has come, even at this production rate, to disposing of all the shortages built up during the war. It continues:

1. Russia has surpassed its pre-war level in production of coal, aluminum, copper, nickel, electric power and all types of machinery.

2. Most other branches of basic industry are producing much less than in 1946. The most serious shortages are in steel, cement and timber.

3. Steel scarcity is the bottleneck in the entire economy of Russia. Largely because of it, the whole construction industry has been in the doldrums for the last two years.

Yet enormous construction projects, entailing heavy outlays of steel, cement and timber, are needed to increase steel-making capacity.

The present plan for raising the output of iron and steel is behind schedule, says the analyst who wrote the report, and prospects are that increases next year will not be large.

FAMOUS INSPECTOR SENT TO CLEAN UP SICILY'S "MAFIA"

By JOHN P. MCNIGHT
ROME (AP)—The Italian government has again put one of its best-known policemen on the trail of Sicily's notorious Mafia.

He is 60-year-old Francesco Spano, a veteran inspector of public security, who was sent to the island last April after the machine-gun slaying of Calogero Gangialosi, Communist labor leader.

Spano went with orders to clean up Sicily, a job he did once before for Benito Mussolini 20 years ago. This time he went with 750 Carabinieri, all well-mounted and equipped with arms ranging from light field pieces, and 350 special agents.

Grey-haired Spano is not finding this second campaign to uproot the deep-rooted Mafia easy going.

Police and Carabinieri still fall before Mafia's bandit bullets in the island's remote hills. The brazen, near-legendary bandit leader, "Guiliano" still proves elusive, although several times Spano's men have been hot on his trail.

But Spano, keeping his "mobile force" on the move in the hills, thinks he is making progress and points to the lessening number of bandits raids in proof.

Just now, Spano's forces are most active in western Sicily's troublesome Partinico area, where there have been several attacks recently on men employed to guard crops.

For 20 of his 36 years in police work he has fought the Mafia and Sicily's gangsters generally. After an intensive campaign, which at some stages approached all-out war, Spano virtually wiped them out in 1928.

But 16 years later the mob was back again, nurtured by post-war strains, economic dislocation, war veterans turned malcontents and the separatist movement. All these pressures are in abundant evidence on this semi-feudal island.

One Sicilian political leader, a liberal said: "Until the economic plight of the island is improved, until adequate and well-drilled police forces are provided, we will always have the Mafia."

Leftists claimed Gangialosi was the 35th Communist labor leader killed by the Mafia in the last two years. The government claims the number is much less.

Spano says much of the furor over the deaths of leftists leaders was "political speculation intended to influence the (April 18) election." Many of these slain, he said, died in private, non-political fights. Furthermore, Christian Democrats and other Rightists have met sudden death on the island.

The inspector says Mafia operations centre in western Sicily, where there are many great estates. With normal police forces insufficient to hold down banditry and check theft of crops and land seizure, Spano said, many overseers have the Mafia contracts with organized bands in the hope of getting peace.

B.C. PREMIER URGES PUBLIC BUY BRITISH

INFORMAL CHAT

Premier Johnson Urges Young Men to Take More Interest in National Affairs

Premier Byron Johnson of British Columbia, speaking informally at a dinner of the A.O.T.S. at the United Church Hall, Wednesday, called upon all Canadians to help themselves by purchasing British-made goods.

"We must expect to buy goods—lots of them—from Britain if we expect Britain to continue to buy from us," said the premier as he touched lightly on Britain's struggle to get back on her feet after the disastrous Second World War.

"The people of Britain are working in a manner that's a surprise to the world—if they only knew it. Production there is terrific and it won't be long before she can take care of herself," he said.

While most of his short address concerned his recent trip to Britain and Holland and Belgium during the Empire Parliamentary Association conference, he traversed adroitly the highly political ground. At one point he appealed to his hearers to take a more active interest in public affairs.

"Join any Party"

Appealing especially to the younger men, he said: "I don't care what party you get into, but get into one. Do your duty. Do your share of service to your country."

At another point, he said B. C.'s progress depended upon encouraging other people to move to this province, instead of trying to keep them out. "B.C. has to accept people as long as they are willing to work and become good citizens."

Spirit of the British people was found in the laboring class where workers have long hours every day to boost production. "Everywhere I went, the British people were working. That's why they're bound to win."

The silver-haired premier said he had a great admiration for the people of The Netherlands in the way they were re-establishing themselves, as he pictured the grim struggle the Hollanders have been facing to reclaim thousands of acres devastated by bombing and flooding.

Debt not Paid

"If we ever get the idea we've repaid Britain and Holland for what they did for us during the war, we are underestimating our responsibilities," declared Mr. Johnson. He said he found it hard to visit that general that war will engulf them again and destroy everything they have been trying to rebuild.

Belgium was the opposite of The Netherlands, with a lot of every thing but a terrific price. But the Belgians could teach British Columbia a lot of things about production and development of industries, he said.

He commended the Belgians for their courage and vision, qualities he thought should be a must with the people of B.C. if they were to progress with the rest of the world. He foresaw a great future for B.C. once its immense wealth of natural resources was fully developed.

Referring briefly to Britain's austerity program, the premier explained that Britain will "not put up American dollars to buy B.C. goods and salmon." It meant a lot of scrambling around to find other markets for B.C. products and one way to help regain British markets was to purchase British goods.

Canadians Respected

The fluent, affable leader of the B.C. Liberal Party found that Canadians were loved and respected wherever he travelled on his recent trip overseas. He learned that the Canadian people had supplied even a larger percentage of foodstuffs to the British people during the war and afterwards than he had thought.

Jim Brydon, local packinghouse manager, who knew the premier son for addressing the meeting, G. R. Johnson was in the chair and Harry Chapin introduced the guest speaker.

APPEAL BOARD

The Orchard City Lodge is buying the property of the Lutheran church on the corner of Doyle and Richter street which will be used as a hall. However, in view of the fact a hall would be contrary to zoning regulations, the matter was referred to the building appeal board.

LONDON (CP)—More than 43,000 visitors arrived in Britain during June, the British Travel Association said recently. The figure was 8½ per cent greater than the average for June during the three years immediately preceding the war.

MACHINERY ENDS COLORFUL SCENES IN SASKATCHEWAN

REGINA (CP)—Much of the color has gone from the prairie harvest scene along with the toil once involved in reaping Canada's top commercial commodity.

Power machinery—more and more in evidence since he early 30's—has slashed the labor demand and speeded up harvest operations.

From early August till late September rain generally has harvest time. Early-ripening wheat has been developed to speed operations and beat the deadly fall frost that has plagued Saskatchewan farmers since the turn of the century when wheat changed the province from an outpost.

The farmer may be delayed—as this year—by a late spring and tardy rains. Or his operations may be suspended by early snow.

Preceding those harvests of the past was the special excursion trains that huffed westwards laden with husky men from Cape Breton's coal fields, Maritime lumber camps, Quebec and Ontario farms and factories.

For a $5 to $10 a day—big money when a nickel bought a cigar—they tramped behind horse-drawn binders to pile sheaves into stacks that dotted wheat fields in regular patterns.

Then with racks, they loaded the sheaves and drove to the stationary thrasher where straw belched out one spout and grain another.

Hungry men—a light eater wasn't considered a good worker—were fed five times a day by a harassed housewife whose main fear was rain that would halt threshing and leave stranded on her hands hordes of mouths to feed.

That scene began to fade with the advent of the combine or reaper-thresher that cut and threshed the grain in one operation. During the last decade many farmers continued using the old stationary thrasher because they couldn't afford to buy new equipment.

With the return of wheat and markets, there appeared tractors and combines to cut the seasonal migration to a comparative trickle. A modern crew of three men, a truck and a self-propelled combine methodically threshes as much in a day as three times that number of men could have managed formerly.

And in good grain country where heavy soil ensures top yields, a fine midnight in harvest time will show a dozen outfits rumbling steadily through the crop, their headlights shining for miles.

Meanwhile, rusting and weed-grown in almost any farm-yard corner if it hasn't been sold for scrap, is the old stationary thrasher sitting beside a binder or two and perhaps an antique gasoline job. Today's harvesting doesn't have that per-

CCF SPEAKERS URGE PENSION RATE BOOST

O. L. Jones and Bruce Woodworth Address Meeting at Peachland

PEACHLAND—The speakers at the C.C.F. meeting held in the Municipal Hall last Monday, were O. L. Jones, M.P. for Yale, and Bruce Woodworth, C.C.F. candidate. C. R. Haker was the chairman and introduced the speakers, telling of the C.C.F. in many campaigns to win as a Federal member in the last by-election. Mr. Jones denied charges that the C.C.F. had communists in its ranks. The way to fight communism is to have a socialist government, he declared. The three per cent tax was an imposition on the people, he said. Income tax was the only fair thing. He touched on roads, and speaking of unemployment, said it was getting to the point where it was spreading. Men over forty are not employed, and this does not count their families. We must have planned economy. He spoke of production during the war, and said: "We must have a security." Speaking of old age pensions, people with fixed incomes have a tough time due to the rising prices, he said. The means test should be abolished and the pension given to every one. Income tax would take care of it where it was not needed, in the same way as family allowances.

Bruce Woodworth said: "Our opponents link us up with so many isms, and yet when Fascism came into power, the first things they did was to eliminate all opposition from the Socialists, democratic socialists, trade unionists, writers and authors." The C.C.F. would institute a co-ordinated plan for flood control, irrigation, hydro-electric development and wild life conservation. He gave a general picture of the situation from Vernon south, of the increase of population, and the amount of money brought in, and the need of additional irrigation to develop additional acres of arable land. He touched on the hospital insurance plan and the need for more beds; on power development, and the number of areas without power. He thought the engineers' report on flood control should be implemented immediately, and the conservation of wild life should be a planned scheme. He spoke of the difference in the cost of car insurance in B.C. and Saskatchewan, and the benefits received by the Saskatchewan motorists. "Freedom is a hollow freedom unless you have something to go with it. You need economic freedom as well," he said.

Memorial Windows and Plaques Dedicated to Westbank Ministers

WESTBANK—A solemn service of dedication marked the tenth anniversary of Westbank United Church last Sunday evening, when memorial windows and inscribed plaques were unveiled in memory of former ministers of the church.

The dedication service was conducted by the guest minister, the Rev. W. P. Bunt, of Vancouver, Superintendent of Home Missions for British Columbia Conference of the United Church of Canada, with the words: "We then in His name unite in dedicating these windows and inscribed plaques in loving memory of JOHN D. GILLAM, M.A.—Died February 13, 1948, Minister of this church from 1936 to 1939, and under whose ministry this church was created, and Flying Officer, Rev. GEORGE R. PRINGLE, B.A., (R.C.A.F.)—Killed in flying operations January 24, 1943. Buried in Bournemouth, England. Minister of this church July 1940, to June 1941."

To the Glory of God, our Father, from whom cometh every good and perfect gift; To the honor of Christ our Lord and Saviour; To the praise of the Holy Spirit, source of light and power. We make this dedication . . . At the conclusion of the dedication service the lights were lowered and the windows floodlighted from without.

The service was conducted by the minister of the church, Rev. H. S. McDonald, and the anniversary sermon preached by Mr. Bunt. Mrs. J. L. Dobbin was organist for the occasion and special music was part of the service. Miss Gwenyth Reece sang, "Jesus, Lover of my Soul."

ANSCOMB STILL NON-COMMITTAL
ON TAX YIELD

Kelowna Will Receive $22,000 On December 15 as Share of First Distribution

Hon. Herbert Anscomb holds the purse strings insofar as the province is concerned, but he is not prepared to say how much the three per cent sales tax will produce. He hinted it may be higher than the $12 million it was designed to yield. "I am not here to say how much it will produce. I don't know. But the municipalities will get their one third—two million dollars in December for the first year. Then they'll get one third of whatever it produces again in June," he said.

Kelowna's share on December 15 will be $22,000, he continued. This tax was instituted, the government left no strings attached as to what the money could be used for. Municipal portions would allow municipalities to reduce land taxation or go ahead with construction you cannot do without," the minister said.

"When we give you $40 to $45,000 (per year), then you can go out and build a city hall and I'm paying for it. That's your responsibility."

Issues Challenge

He challenged anyone to reduce old age pensions and social services rather than instituting a tax to pay for these increased services. "There are 27 states in the U.S. where the tax is imposed. Saskatchewan has had it for two years. In Quebec they have had the tax for many years, and in some cities in Quebec a civic tax is also imposed."

"The social service situation will become more acute. There was no other alternative but to go to the public for the money."

"You are not ashamed that you are paying anything for social security, are you?" he asked the audience.

"The national government has an eight per cent tax and yet I've never heard anything about it. Under the constitution we have to show what the provincial sales tax is, yet under the federal law, you do not have to do so."

DELINQUENCY LARGELY DUE TO PARENTS

Rev. H. S. McDonald Chief Speaker at Westbank Board of Trade

MAJOR PROBLEM

Separated Parents Largely Responsible for Youths Getting In Trouble

WESTBANK—"Not in all the time during which I sat as judge of the juvenile court in the City of Kelowna, did I meet with a 'bad' boy or girl, but I certainly came in contact with a good many 'bad' parents."

So stated Rev. Harry S. McDonald, minister of the Peachland and Westbank United Churches, when he addressed the speaker at the meeting of the Westbank Board of Trade recently. Juveniles are no longer regarded as delinquents, but rather as "mis-directed youths," Mr. McDonald went on adding. "They must be treated as such." The area of delinquency falls within the scope of parenthood rather than that of youth, declared the speaker. Any two people with the necessary funds can obtain a licence to marry and bring children into the world. Many of these children are not wanted and consequently a considerable number of the parents have no idea whatsoever of the responsibility of a parent. They proceed to farm them out to whatever agency is willing to take them off their hands, with the result that the children become drawn into channels which run counter to society and fall into the hands of the law.

Society's Charge

Mr. MacDonald gave illustrations out of hundreds of cases before him to show the lack of parental control resulting in appearance before the court. One was that of the father who "bawled" out his daughter every time she came home late, until she finally left home and became a prostitute. On the other hand, the father of another girl who did the same thing gathered her wild friends in to his home for "jam sessions" and forgot about a few broken records and the odd plate. The result was that twelve young people found out what a wonderful time they could have "for free," right in their own home. Dad and mother in this case teamed up with their daughter's companions, and gave them a little direction.

Another instance was that of a father who would not buy skates for his son. The son finally proceeded to steal enough money to buy his skates, with the result that there was a very indignant father and a boy who knew the art of petty thievery.

The speaker pointed out that the place of the juvenile court is not to punish the misdirected youth, but to reclaim him so that society might be benefitted. The first step taken when a juvenile comes into contact with the law for these in charge to find out all about his parents, his home, school, habits; his Sunday school contacts and whether the boy belongs to a club. A picture can then be drawn showing where the process of re-direction can begin.

Many Factors

Factors in the homes of divorced or separated parents loom large. Alcohol and immorality fill a great portion of the picture. Lack of understanding on the part of parents resulting in learning from others. Lack of interest in school, attendance in Sunday school, lack of contact with Scouts, Guides, Tuxis groups, etc., all have a bearing on cases. Youth cannot guide itself, and if not given the right guidance in the right direction, it will get the wrong guidance in the wrong direction. Youth is definitely going some place, and the home is the place to start the direction.

FRUIT DISPLAY BIG ATTRACTION AT WINTER FAIR

One of the most interesting and colorful attractions at the recent Toronto Royal Winter Fair was B.C. Tree Fruit display of fruit.

The display was banked on a 60 degree angle, ten feet high, and fifty feet long. It featured a background of red delicious, with the letters B.C. outlined in Newton apples, and 250 boxes were used altogether.

Centering the display was a large poster, explaining by photographs and write-ups the process of growing, packing and shipping fruit. Featured in the photographs were four B.C. Tree Fruit employees, Misses Joy Mackay, Lottie Govans, Marie Frey and Shirley Thompson.

A Kelowna visitor to the display said, "As far as the fruit was concerned, B.C. Tree Fruits had the most colorful display. The pictures were good and attracted more attention than the fruit."

The expense of this venture was shared by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, said A. K. Loyd, president and general manager of Tree Fruits. Two Kelowna men, Ken Johnson, advertising, and W. Thomas, contact representative, were sent down to Toronto to take charge of the display. Mr. Johnson reported that substantial offers had been made for the fruit on display, but it was thought that it would be given away to a hospital or some other charitable institution.

OKANAGAN MISSION

OKANAGAN MISSION—Between 80 and 90 people attended a Coalition meeting in Okanagan Mission Community Hall last Monday evening, a record crowd for this district.

H. C. S. Collett was chairman of the meeting, and introduced the candidate, R. D. Browne-Clayton, who is well-known in the Mission. Mr. Browne-Clayton spoke briefly on the B.C. government highway program and action taken by the flood control board. Nigel Pooley, of East Kelowna, also spoke at the meeting, outlining the many advantages B.C. residents have, such as unemployment insurance, federal aid, industrial development, mothers' allowances, baby bonus, blind pensions, hospital insurance, etc. He claimed that these services had been built up through the years by the Coalition government.

C. H. Bull spoke, emphasizing the fact that the candidate, R. D. Browne-Clayton had all the necessary characteristics to make him a leader in the house. He claimed Mr. Browne-Clayton had a full knowledge of the valley and its problems, and could do much good for the fruit growers, he added.

Premier Byron Johnson later visited the gathering, and spoke on his recent visit to Great Britain and Europe, while he was attending the Commonwealth conference there.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the Ladies' auxiliary, convened by Miss Christine Heath, Mrs. K. Tallyour, and assisted by Mrs. E. Farris.

SUGGEST B.C. DEVELOP PGE OF ITS OWN

Duty to Get Highway to Peace River to Develop Coal, Oil, Says Premier Johnson

Since the national railways "are not interested in going into partnership at this time," British Columbia should develop the PGE on its own, Premier Byron Johnson declared here Wednesday night.

"The people of B.C. if they are prepared, can accept taxation and develop our province," he said. "It will be necessary for us to take money out of our revenue to develop it, and if necessary, to extend the PGE into the Peace River."

"It is our duty to see that we not only get a highway to the Peace River, but we must find some way to develop the coal and oil there. It is our job to do it and if we have the courage to do it, it will pay dividends to the people of this province," he declared after outlining the great mineral resources in the north country.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

RAPS COALITION SPEAKER The Editor,

Dear Sir—I have listened faithfully to the speakers on the radio in support of the Coalition policies. The case for capitalism must be rotten indeed if it has to be supported by the outright lies and misrepresentations spread by such speakers as Bob Knox, Bob Hayman, Mr. Weddell and L. R. Stephens. Perhaps because there is no question period at the close of a radio broadcast, a speaker feels that his remarks will go unchallenged, and is therefore more courageous than he would be on the open platform. The other day at a public meeting, I heard a Conservative supporter read a letter giving the Communist party credit for sufficient strength in the Okanagan to play a decisive part in the Yale by-election. Can even the Communists think up a more subversive piece of propaganda? Yours truly,

FRANK SNOWSELL.

A letter has been received headed "Men or Mice". The writer is advised that this cannot be published as he failed to sign his name. No unsigned letter is published.—The Editor.

"I'VE THOUGHT THIS THING OUT..."

Says Tom Franck

I think I can make up my own mind better than any government official can do it for me. And that's why I'm plugging for our free opportunity democratic system. To me, it means freedom of choice; choice of education and vocation, choice of employer and of politics.

Like most young Canadians I want to choose my education and fit myself for the job or the profession I've decided on . . . not be told how and what to do by a politician, two thousand miles away. If I'm capable—and who doesn't try to be—I'll succeed.

And what's more important, our free opportunity democracy makes it possible for others like me to get ahead as far and as fast as they can. What our politics are or who our families were doesn't matter. We'll make it on how well we do our jobs . . . not how well we know a political boss or how well we serve an all powerful political party.

I've thought this thing out. By comparison and on its own merits, our free opportunity democracy offers more to me—a student—than any Socialist or Communist state would. And by more, I mean more choice of what I want to do, more opportunity to succeed, more rewards if I make good, and a higher standard of living for everybody.

Certainly I want a free opportunity democracy. And because I want it, I'm going to work to defend it and improve it in every way I can.

Kelowna and District Consumers Co-operative Moves to New Store Opposite Local Arena Parking Lot

The Kelowna and District Consumers Co-Op. Association has moved to its new location at 1447 Ellis Street.

Previously, this co-operative store was associated with the Kelowna Growers Exchange. The new location is opposite the arena parking lot.

With the opening of the new store, people are asking: "What is a co-operative store and how does it differ from other enterprises?" The difference is this: "In co-operative enterprises each shareholder has one vote regardless of the size of his or her share. There is no proxy vote. Thus each shareholder has full voice along with every body else as to how this particular enterprise should be operated," a spokesman pointed out.

Co-operative prices compare favorably with those in other similar enterprises and earnings go back to the member-shareholders. Shares in the Kelowna & District Consumers Co-Op Association are valued at $25 per share and may be bought with a small down payment and the remainder made up from earnings received from purchases made in the store.

In actual practice a share means an individual's buying groceries at cost.

"In the Okanagan, we are very familiar with the great benefits derived from our producer co-ops—equal benefits can accrue from consumer co-ops," an official stated.

The co-operative movement originated in Rochdale where a number of weavers banded together to beat depression. The co-operative movement is now world-wide, operating in 31 countries—the consumer branch alone has a membership of approximately 50,000,000.

Co-operators believe the movement is a living thing, a philosophy of life, and not just a way of transacting business. It aims to improve morale as well as the economic status of the community. They believe that the Golden Rule is as applicable in business ethics as it is in moral conduct. Regardless of an individual's race, religion or politics, he is welcome to join the co-operative movement.

NORMAL SCHOOL HOOPSTERS SEEK PLAYING DATE

Another tour of interior centres by the Vancouver Normal School hoopers appears likely, following receipt of a letter by the Kelowna Basketball Association from the Coast teachers.

The letter suggests dates for next month and promised a keen fight. The 1946 edition of the normal school was one of the best to make the annual tour, but last year's aggregation was beaten at every appearance.

KFA officials are mulling over the letter and probably will have an announcement to make this week.

BEARS EVEN UP HOOP SERIES

Down 23-8 at half time, Kelowna Bears climbed on their bicycles to score 20 points in the third quarter, take over the lead 28-27 at three-quarter time and hold on to beat Pentiction Vets 37-33 at Pentiction Saturday night.

Henry Tostenson finally found the range, pacing the winners with 13 points. There will be no basketball games in Kelowna this week.

WORLD MARK FOR TRAIL WOMAN

TRAIL (CP) — Miss Ollie Watson may have posted a world's five-pin bowling record when she rolled a three-game score of 1110. Her game tallies were 391, 324 and 395. A dozen onlookers witnessed the feat.

The official world's record it 1102, established in 1942. Bowling alley officials here have asked the Bowling Congress of America if the 1942 record still stands.

FANS PROVIDE EXTRA THRILL

All the roughness during Tuesday night's Mainline-Okanagan Senior B Hockey League fixture at Memorial Arena between Kelowna and Kelowna was not confined to the ice surface.

Two middle-aged fans provided extra thrills and laughs for a reserved section at the north side of the arena. Police quietened the combatants down during the latter parts of the game after the smaller of the two — an unidentified Swede — had taken a bit of a facial massage from the other warrior.

But the Swede got his back with interest. He nailed his adversary outside the arena after the game and sent him to the hospital for repairs to his eye socket when his glass optic was broken.

Kelowna Packers won the game 6-4.

Vets Edge Bears in Last 10 Seconds of Cage Fest

PENTICTON VETS 41, KELOWNA BEARS 39 DYNAMOS 45, PIONEERS 24

TEN SECONDS—one sixth of a minute— isn't much in any sport ordinary days, but that's all the time it took for Kelowna Bears to suffer their third loss in five exhibition tries.

Leading most of the way before a disappointingly small crowd at Scout Hall Thursday night, the local senior cagers lost a heart-breaker to Pentiction Vets by a 41-39 score. Jack Walsh bucketed the clincher with only 10 seconds remaining in the game to bring victory to the Pentictionites in their first game of the season.

During the last frame, as during the two previous quarters, the Bears had a slight edge in the play. But their shooting was wild as a maniac's dream, allowing the Vets to catch up and go ahead at the bell.

Prime example of how not to make baskets was the usually reliable Herb Capozzi. Normally good for a dozen points or so, Capozzi had as many shots as any other man on the court but the hoop looked like the size of a saucer whenever he let go.

20 Points by Moyles Behind most of the way, the Vets never stopped trying and accurate shooting from any distance, particularly by Maury Moyles, offset any margin the homeowners had.

Moyles, who played up 20 points during the night, got 10 of them during the last 10 minutes, including the basket that tied the game with less than three minutes remaining.

Both quintets played it cautiously most of the way, although free scoring featured the first quarter, with Pentiction on top 16-12 going into the next canto. Bears had their best innings during the second period when they checked the Vets almost to a standstill, holding them to one point while booting in 11 themselves. Half-time score was 25-17 in the locals' favor.

An orgy of personal fouls on the part of the Bears gave Pentiction eight free tries, four of them good, enabling them to outscore Kelowna 12-9 and trimming Kelowna's lead 34-29.

While the Bears fumbled blindly around the Pentiction hoop, Moyles broke away five times to tie the game up at 30-29. Kelowna had lots of opportunities to move out in front, but the tilt remained all even until Walsh looped in the long shot from the side with 10 seconds left.

One-sided Surprise The intermediate B preliminary between Legion Pioneers and Industrial Electric Dynamoes didn't have the expected kick as Dick Zaccarelli's boys overwhelmed the Pioneers 45-24.

In previous games, both teams had come through with impressive victories over outside teams. The one-sided score came as a surprise to the few fans who turned out.

FIRST GAME IN SR. CAGE LOOP SET FOR DEC. 2

Senior basketball league play, to be tried out for the first time this year, gets under way this week, with Kelowna Bears making a scheduled trip to Kamloops to meet the Leland Hotel Rainbows.

First home stand for the Bears in their 14-game schedule will be on Thursday of next week against Vernon. Other dates will be announced later.

Each of the six teams in the league—Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, Pentiction, Oliver and Princeton—will play seven games away and seven at home. The 42-game schedule will probably go on until sometime in February.

For purposes of overcoming travel difficulties, the league has been divided into two divisions, Kamloops, Vernon and Kelowna in the north, Pentiction, Oliver and Princeton in the south.

For example, Kelowna plays Vernon here twice and two games at Vernon. The same with Kamloops, making a total of eight games. The Bears also play once at Oliver, Pentiction and Princeton and play at home once to each of the three southern squads, making 14 games all told.

The top four teams at the end of the schedule will advance into the playoffs for the Interior Basketball Association.

While Kelowna Bears first home game is slated for Thursday of next week, there is a possibility home games here may be held on Fridays so as not to conflict with minor hockey. Herb Capozzi, Kelowna Basketball Association president, said over the weekend.

Practices for the unattached mid-level boys will be held from 5-6 p.m. today and Thursday and from 1-2 p.m. Saturday, at which time K.D.M.H.C. officials will try to organize them into teams.

Bantams — Operated as a bantam pool and supervised by the Kiwanis Club with the assistance of other service clubs. An estimated 300-350 boys have indicated their desire to play in this class of hockey. About seven teams may be formed out of this group.

The K.D.M.H.C. also announced final agreement has been reached with the arena commission on times for practices and games. The times given in the schedule below will always be available for minor hockey, but the allotment to the different groups will vary at the discretion of the minor hockey committee.

This Week's Schedule Following is the schedule for this week (Note—this applies to this week only): Monday: 4-5 p.m. — Air Cadets mid-levels.

5-6 p.m.—Unattached mid-levels. Tuesday: 7-8 p.m.—Preliminary game, starting 7 p.m., Rutland mid-levels vs. K. of C. mid-levels, followed by senior B game, Kamloops vs. Kelowna.

Wednesday: 5-5:45—Rutland practice. 5:45-6:30 — Okanagan Mission — East Kelowna. 10-11 p.m.—Junior and juvenile rep teams.

Thursday: 4-5 p.m.—Boy Scouts. 5-6 p.m.—Unattached mid-levels. 8 p.m.—Official opening Minor Hockey Night. Two local bantam teams, first game.

9 p.m.—Air Cadets vs. Vernon mid-levels. 10 p.m.—Kodiaks vs. Vernon juveniles. Friday: 3:30-4:30 p.m. — Bantam pool. 10-11 p.m.—Unattached juniors. Saturday: 7-8 a.m. — Unattached mid-levels. 8-10 a.m.—Bantam pool. 10-12 a.m.—Pentiction. 6-7 p.m.—Kodiaks. Sunday: 7:30-9:30 a.m.—Juniors. 9:30-11:30 a.m.—Kodiaks.

BOWLING J. C. KENNEDY ELECTED HEAD LOCAL GOLFERS

Detailed Report on Revamping Golf Course Given at Annual Meeting

COST $10,000

Complete Reconstruction of Nine-Hole Course by End of June

A detailed report of the progress on work now under way to make finest in the Interic was given on Thursday night at the annual general meeting of the Kelowna Golf Club by F. D. Burkholder, newly-elected vice-president.

Estimating the cost for the first year — including construction and upkeep — at close to $10,000, the hard-working vice-president said: "It will be an easy course to play, with no lying steps."

He assured devoted divotters they will not have to lay up their clubs while the work is in progress next spring. He estimated the revamped nine-hole course, with grass greens and approaches would be ready by the end of June.

Jack C. Kennedy, whose illness this summer forced him to resign as president, was elected to the post. Doug Diane was named captain and the following were chosen for the executive committee: Bert Cookson, V. Watson, T. McLaughlin, C. Owen and Dr. A. S. Underhill.

Serve Two Years McLaughlin and Owen will serve for two years, the others one.

NEILSON SUSPENDED Bill Neilson, Vernon Canadians' rear guard, received a one week suspension for an attack on a fan during the Nov. 3 Kamloops at Vernon game. It was announced Thursday that the suspension was put on by Charlie Fullford, Vernon, president of the Mainline-Okanagan Senior B Amateur Hockey League.

Highlights

Jack Snowsell, campaign manager for the C.C.F., could be $1,000 richer today if he had insisted on Hon. Herbert Anscomb taking up his bet that the Saskatchewan health insurance scheme covers people for more than 30 days. At the Coalition rally last Wednesday, Mr. Anscomb, answering a question posed by Mr. Snowsell, said: "... if it is longer than 30 days, how much longer is it?" At that time Mr. Snowsell did not have the answer, but at the C.C.F. meeting Friday night, Mr. Anscomb revealed that a patient can stay in hospital as long as the attending physician sees fit. The leader of the opposition in the provincial house was in fighting the Friday night, and even some Coalitionists who attended the meeting found Mr. Winch's oratory up to the usual standard. He explained that he was stone deaf in his left ear, and had trouble in hearing.

OBITUARIES HENRY F. HICKS Ven. D. S. Calhoun officiated at the funeral service of Henry Freeman Hicks at St. Michael and All Angels' Church, this afternoon (Monday) at 2 p.m. Mr. Hicks, an old-time resident of the Central Okanagan, passed away in Kelowna General Hospital, on Wednesday, Nov. 24, in his 81st year. Burial followed in the Kelowna cemetery, with arrangements entrusted to the Kelowna Funeral Parlor. No flowers by request.

Mr. Hicks was born in Looe, Cornwall, Eng., July 13, 1868. He moved to Montreal from the Old Colony in 1904 and reached the Okanagan six years later (1910), residing first at Oyma. The following year he opened a men's wear business in Kelowna, residing here for some 20 years. He had spent the past 17 years in Oyma and Vernon.

Deceased was a member of the Masonic Lodge and Mason brothers acted as pall bearers for the funeral today. Mr. Hicks, who never married, is survived by two sisters in Kelowna, Miss Florence Hicks and Miss Jessie Hicks.

MRS. M. DAVIES WINFIELD—The death occurred in the Kelowna General Hospital, on Sunday, November 21, of Mrs. M. Davies after an illness of four months.

The late Mrs. Davies was born in Linlithgowshire, Scotland, in 1863. In 1911 Mr. and Mrs. Davies moved to Calgary, where her husband died in 1932. She continued to make her home there until the spring of 1938 when she arrived in Winfield to stay with her sister, Mrs. J. Todd.

Funeral services were held on Thursday, November 25, from Day's Funeral Home with Rev. S. Crysdale officiating. Interment was in the Kelowna cemetery. The pall bearers were W. R. Powley, C. McClellan, G. Williamson, A. Hart, L. Clement and R. Moody. She leaves to mourn her passing, a sister, Mrs. J. Todd, Winfield, two nephews, Richard Stevens, Chicago, and James Stevens, Boness, Scotland.

MARY GABLE Three-year-old Mary Gable, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gable, 640 Cambridge St., Kelowna, passed away on Sunday, Nov. 21, at 8 o'clock. Rev. A. Macleod officiated at the Catholic funeral service from the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Monday, Nov. 22. Burial was in the Kelowna cemetery. Besides her parents, she is survived by one sister, Bonny, 14 months. Day's Funeral Service was in charge.

The C.C.F. leader had the answer as to why so many Saskatchewan people are coming to British Columbia. They are leaving because they like the climate of B.C. They are leaving because they want to retire and there is no better place than B.C. to retire. They are leaving because of doctor's orders as they have to get away from the rigors of winter. And they are leaving because agriculture is developing here the same as other industries.

"There is no such thing as the recall movement in the C.C.F.," Mr. Winch said. We have a national convention every two years and a provincial convention every year. The Liberals have held three conventions since Confederation. One in 1893, another in 1919, and another in 1948. I understand why. It's because the planks laid down in 1893 are still hanging around and we see they are stealing from the C.C.F.

"The C.C.F. is a crusade. A crusade the same as Christianity," declared O. L. Jones, M.P. "You can help the movement by marching forward. Whether or not you believe in us, you have to understand the C.C.F. It's marching ahead in Canada," he stated.

"Why be fooled. You are not getting one cent more than before," stated Mr. Winch in referring to the municipal sales tax. He said municipal governments have to pay the tax on all purchases. "But here's the catch. There's a hole in the pocket. The municipalities pay out the three per cent, but only get one-third back," he said.

"If it's sentiment you want from father and son, I can outdo Premier Johnson, Winch declared. "... because I have a father who has represented Burnaby for 15 years, who has a son who is Harold Winch who has represented Vancouver East for 15 years, who has a son who is provincial organizer for the C.C.F. movement."

Referring to the Liberal-Progressive Conservative Coalition, Mr. Winch said, "I had a letter in 1941 from former Premier John Hart and he pleaded me to join the Coalition, and I would be a cabinet minister along with Mr. Anscomb. They (the Liberals and Conservatives) said to one another 'sweetheart, let's get married;

SHOWER HONORS
DECEMBER BRIDE

Mrs. Harry Crelin and Mrs. Charles de Puyfer were co-hostesses last Tuesday evening at a surprise miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Phyllis Brown, bride-elect of early December.

Many lovely and useful gifts were presented to the guest of honor in a large basket decorated as a ship. Guests included Mrs. T. A. Carew, Mrs. Keith McLaren, Mrs. H. Heron, Miss Fenella Locock, Miss Joan Butt, Miss Gwen Reece, Mrs. Gordon Jennens, Mrs. A. M. Williams, Mrs. Mona Herbert, Mrs. W. Crelin, Mrs. W. Cameron, and Mrs. B. Greening.

TIMELY
RECIPES

With Christmas less than a month away, and everybody busy making Christmas cakes, mince meat, and looking up recipes for their Christmas puddings, social editors are liable to get enough women's news to fill a page. But just to prove that the social life isn't everything, here is a prize recipe, tried and tested, for your mince-meat this Christmas.

Ingredients
1 pound raisins
1 pound chopped suet
1 pound apples
1/2 pound mixed peel
1/2 pound brown sugar
1 tsp. mixed spice (all spice)
1 tumbler sherry and brandy mixed—or 1 tumbler apple juice.

Method
Mix suet, sugar, spice and peel in a bowl. Next put apples, raisins and currents through a mincer, making sure that the apples are well mixed with the other two ingredients, as the juice from the apples assists the raisins and currents in going through the mincer. Then put all the ingredients in a large bowl, and mix thoroughly with your hands. Add the liquids next, and put in seals.

This recipe will make two quart sealers, and should add considerably to your Christmas table's appetite appeal, even though everyone has had quite enough with the turkey. Another Christmas recipe that might interest Kelowna housewives, if they are not all busy nursing cases of measles, is a small inexpensive carrot pudding.

Ingredients
1 cup grated raw carrot
1 cup grated raw potato
1 cup grated raw apple
1/4 cups flour
3/4 cup granulated sugar
1 tsp. each of salt, soda, cinnamon, all spice and nutmeg
1/2 cups washed raisins (currants if desired)
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Method
Fill well greased moulds 3/4 full, cover closely, and steam for approximately three hours. If a pressure cooker is used, only one hour is required for steaming.

GIRL MECHANIC
HELPS ASSEMBLE
ATOM-SMASHER

MONTREAL (CP)—Back in New Zealand some years ago Miss Margaret E. Mulligan found it fun tinkering in her car. Now she is helping to assemble a 300-ton atom-smasher at McGill University.

Her most important job is wiring the intricate control board. When that is finished she plans to leave for Australia. She wants to work there a few years before returning to her New Zealand home.

Miss Mulligan's early tinkering ability was put to good use when she became a telephone operator in New Zealand. She had an uncanny flair for detecting trouble in the big switchboard.

She was visiting Canada when the Second World War broke out. Because she could not get passage back to New Zealand, she sought war work, first in an automobile factory, then in an airplane plant. Later she was with the National Research Council and finally at McGill.

TELLS GRIM TALE OF GERMAN LIFE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Gertrude Schewring, a pretty German girl now living in the British zone, would like to come to Canada and start life anew.

She finds life in Germany too grim, and in a letter to friends here said:

"Germany is like a poultry yard. One person plucks the other. I am sorry for saying so, but it is true."

"The new Deutsche-Mark money is not enough to live on. Most of the people here have no work because the factories have no money to pay them and the storehouses are full, but we have no money to buy anything."

Gertrude, 25, is a good cook, and a willing worker.

"I know only one dream," she wrote, "to go to another part of the world where I can buy the bread to live on."

TOUR OF EUROPE
REVEALS MISERY
IN D.P. CAMPS

Unitarian Committee Head Finds Germany "Unervating and upsetting"

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova, head of the Unitarian Service Committee in Canada, has just completed a two-month tour of Europe which has left the little director with mixed feelings.

Czechoslovakia she found "distressing and upsetting."

In Austria, "the need is greater than we imagine," she said in a newsletter to U.S.C. headquarters.

"Of 300 classrooms destroyed by the bombing of Vienna and rebuilt last year, only one-tenth could be put to use, for equipment such as benches and blackboards were not available."

Vagrant children who spend all afternoon and evening in the streets are one of the biggest problems of Vienna. The rate of offences among the youth has tripled in the last year.

Dr. Hirschmanova found an unemployment problem in Austria where lack of materials and mounting food prices forced the shutting down of factories and shops.

"One of the most urgent problems in Austria today is to provide work and recreation for the young," she said.

During her visit to Poland the director found the Poles courageously reconstructing their country. They "fight against such terrible odds with so much goodwill and enthusiasm, that you have to admire them, whether you agree with their political views or not," she said.

Unhappy Silesia

Describing her visit to the Children's Aid Society for Silesia, she said she would never have believed "that so much misery and unhappiness could be assembled in one small building."

The director was a screening station for children from three to 18 years, who had run away from their families, or from homes or institutions which had been taking care of them.

"Two thousand such children were brought (here) during the last 12 months," said Dr. Hirschmanova. "If you consider that such stations all over Poland exist today, you will realize that this problem is of tragic importance."

"Most of the children were so underdeveloped and undernourished that you would take a child of 12 for an eight-year-old," she continued.

While in Germany Dr. Hirschmanova visited two displaced persons camps. The first was the former concentration camp of Bergen-Belsen, which has been transferred into the only completely Jewish D.P. camp in Germany. Another camp serves for Latvian and Lithuanian refugees.

"In Bergen-Belsen live 7,000 refugees, awaiting evacuation, mostly to Palestine," the director said. She described the Baltic camp as "terribly primitive." Families lived in small cubicles separated from the next only by blankets and rags.

When it came to war talk, Dr. Hirschmanova said that some persons looked on war as the only solution to their problems—these were the German refugees from the east, without homes, without jobs, and without families. But the great majority of the people are very much afraid of war, she reported.

SCHOOL WING
AT BENVOLIN IS INSPECTED

BENVOLIN — An appreciation tea was held in the Benvolin school in the lunch room on Wednesday afternoon of last week. Bob Chato paid tribute to the P.T.A. and the school board for their efforts in providing the school with this new wing which includes modern wash rooms, basement and furnace, lunchroom and teachers' room.

There were about 32 present. Tea was served by a number of the girls of the school.

As this was Education Week, the students' work was on display in both Mr. John Smith's room and Miss Joan Richardson's class, and enabled the parents to understand how the students are progressing.

National Film Board pictures were held in the Benvolin school on Monday evening.

Miss Zadorozny, who has been a patient in the Kelowna Hospital, returned home on Friday.

There will be a service held in the Benvolin United Church on November 28 at 11 a.m., conducted by Rev. Stewart Crysdale. There will also be Sunday School at 10:15 a.m., held in the Benvolin United Church on November 28.

The monthly meeting of the McMillan Circle was held at the home of Mrs. George Reid on Tuesday evening.

SHOE DESIGNERS
TURN CLOCK BACK

NEW YORK (CP)—Footwear stylists are retracing their steps this year, borrowing ideas from mother's and grandmother's day for detail on their fall and winter shoes.

At a recent showing of Frank Brothers' shoes, ankle-high booties ornamented with scrolls of braid or cuffs of fur. Spats, five button high and edged with fur.

Low-heal ghillie boots of black suede with cuffs of black seal.

Scores of buckles, a la Pilgrim Fathers, with wide, flaring tongues to set them off.

Strictly modern were low, V-throated pumps, some of them with sunburst motifs of narrow straps that tie at the instep.

MYRNA LOY, 42
STILL HOMESPUN
AND PHOTOGENIC

HOLLYWOOD (CP)—Even a cynic, if he searches long enough, may find here and there in Hollywood an actress who can maintain her natural humility—and her age—after 20 years in the public eye.

Myrna Loy at 42 is such a woman, almost childishly shy among those she knows only casually, yet just as enthusiastic as she was 65 pictures ago—still a girl from Montana's open spaces despite all the pseudo-sophistication with which she has been endowed on the screen.

If this sounds a trifle maudlin, it is supported by some of the film colony's best witnesses. Says Cary Grant:

"It has always seemed tragic to me that by the time a woman has achieved enough experience to become an accomplished actress she usually has lost most of her looks and her freshness. Myrna Loy is the classic exception. I guess she's ageless."

Myrna has never been a glamorous beauty, but she's highly photogenic. Her hair is sandy, and the upper part of her small, plump face is liberally peppered with freckles. Her figure is not her chief asset.

Even so, she has come a long way since the days when, old timers relate, she used to sit for hours with her fingers pressed against her temples to encourage the slant of her eyes.

Her home in many ways epitomizes her personality — homespun early American. She and producer Gene Markey, her third husband, live in a compact little Connecticut saltbox house, painted barn red with white trim, in the mouth of a canyon near Santa Monica. A spreading oak in the front yard and a stately sycamore across the dirt road shade the two-story dwelling. Traffic flows ceaselessly on busy Sunset Boulevard, 100 yards away.

Windsor Chairs
The house is crammed with

Windsor chairs, gate-leg tables, hooked rugs and old maple chests. "I really don't need any more furniture," she observed, rather uninterested in early American that I'm reading its history. Reading instead of buying," she added with a smile.

The fireplace wall of the living room is paneled, a reproduction (even to the plugged knotholes) of a famous early American room now in the Metropolitan Museum. Flanking the hearth are two deep brown wing chairs. The other walls in the living room are a pale yellow. Miss Loy had an awful time getting the shade she wanted.

"Finally I told the painter to go out and buy a pound of butter and copy the color," she said.

Myrna once lived somewhat pretentiously, in a big house furnished in the French provincial manner, but she says the war produced a trend toward simplicity.

"I try to keep abreast of the times, personally and professionally. Life is a little more serious these days. What was humorous or smart on the screen 10 years ago isn't likely to appeal to the public today. That isn't to say such parts or pictures were bad; they're just dated now. "The Tika Man films, for instance, I'm through with those."

ROYAL TOUR TO AUSTRALIA IS POSTPONED

Circulatory Ailment Forces King to Postpone Trip Scheduled for 1949

A circulatory ailment in his legs has forced the King to postpone the royal tour of Australia and New Zealand planned for 1949.

A bulletin issued by attending doctors said: "A defective blood supply to the right foot causes anxiety." The 52-year-old Sovereign, on medical advice, will fill no public engagements for at least six months.

News of King George's illness came as a surprise. An official Buckingham Palace announcement said the ailment "only recently has become acute." The king's doctors said his general health, including his heart, "gives no reason for concern."

The King ascended the throne in 1936 and will be 63 on Dec. 14. He was to have sailed with Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret in mid-January of next year on a tour of New Zealand and Australia.

The Royal party was to have travelled in the battleship H.M.S. Vanguard by way of the Panama Canal.

Decision to postpone the tour was made after Commonwealth discussion. The Prime Ministers of Britain, Australia and New Zealand, agreed with the doctors' decision.

The January visit was to have been the third Commonwealth Royal tour made by King George. In 1939 the King and Queen made a triumphant month-long tour of Canada, in which they visited all of its larger cities and many small communities.

The whole Royal Family toured South Africa for two months in 1947 and the King withstood the rigors of a 10,000 mile itinerary undertaken by train, automobile and plane. It is understood the King intends to make the tour when he is fully recovered.

The Dominions of the South Pacific were disappointed to hear that the tour had been cancelled. Prime Minister Chifley of Australia said the news came "as a great shock to all of us," and sent a message of sympathy to London.

CITY FAVORS BUILDING GROUP

A. Haggart, building inspector for the City of Vancouver, has made the suggestion to Kelowna city council that an organization be formed so that various cities and towns can discuss their mutual building problems.

Representatives of cities would probably meet twice a year. The suggestion met with the approval of the local council.

VAN ACKERAN AGAIN HEADS CENTRE GROUP

Executive of Okanagan Centre Community Hall Association Named for 1949

FINANCES GOOD

Executive Given Free Hand to Make Improvements to Community Hall

OKANAGAN CENTRE — Annual meeting of the Okanagan Centre Community Hall Association was held on Tuesday evening of last week with a large attendance. President H. J. Van Ackerman was in the chair.

After the minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, the financial report was presented by the treasurer, H. M. Bernau, which showed a balance of $750 after many improvements to the interior of the hall, such as new cupboards in the annex, new drop curtains and backdrops to the stage.

D. Crandemire, one of the members of the board, gave a report of the committee on heating and further improvements in which it was stated that a heating plant and two dressing rooms could be added at an approximate cost well within the means on hand.

Following the election of officers and board for the coming year, they were voted a free hand in such improvements. Prior to the election, Mr. Van Ackerman asked to be relieved of the chairmanship and Mr. Bernau was also anxious to shift the work of secretary-treasurer since he has held that office for 13 years. With this latter plea in mind, A. T. Kobayashi was elected secretary-treasurer and Mr. Bernau was given a very hearty vote of thanks for his efficient and uncomplaining service over so long a period.

The assembly over-ruled Mr. Van Ackerman's wishes and again elected him president.

A committee of five who will appoint a vice-president was elected as follows: Mrs. Van Ackerman, Mrs. Wentworth, Dean Crandemire, C. Harrop and J. Motowyllo, auditor, and N. H. Caesar.

Following the business session, card tables were set up and "court whist" played for several hours followed by refreshments, the social affair being convened by Mrs. Van Ackerman and Mrs. Wentworth.

PACKING SEASON ALMOST OVER

OKANAGAN CENTRE — The packing season at the Winoka Co-operative Exchange is virtually over. Transient workers have left and shipping is continuing with only a skeleton crew. The restaurant, operated by the company, is closed and the girls' dormitory deserted.

The manager reports that, contrary to the usual custom, only a small amount of late varieties of fruit is left to be packed on order this winter.

Giantess's Cap Is Lowered Into Place

DWARFING its builders, the 46-foot-high, 26½-foot-broad funnel of the new British Columbia Exhibition building, at the final section, weighing 15 long tons, is lowered into position. The funnel, the largest ever built, contains machinery to collect and disperse smoke from the main engines and dust from the public rooms and cabins. At 34,000 long tons, the "Caronia" is the largest vessel under construction in Great Britain. Late this year she is expected to join the fleet in which sail the Atlantic giantesses, the Queens Elizabeth and Mar. fleet in which sail the Atlantic giantesses, the Queens Elizabeth and Mar. fleet in which sail the Atlantic giantesses, the Queens Elizabeth and Mar.

NORTH OKANAGAN VALLEY NEWS ROUNDUP

VERNON'S MILLION DOLLAR SCHOOL BYLAW received a hearty endorsement from the ratepayers recently when 1,825 persons voted "Yes" and 340 voted "No." There were two spoiled ballots. Figures given are from the entire Vernon School District 22. Vote in the City of Vernon was 1,044 to 210 in favor of the by-law.

Said E. Sterling, chairman of the school board, after the voting: "I am more than gratified with the result." Mayor T. R. B. Adams said: "I am very pleased the by-law went through with such a large majority. The vote shows the citizens appreciate the tremendous amount of work by the school board."

The Vernon school board now proposed to build: (1) a complete new junior high school in Vernon; (2) a new six-room elementary school in Vernon; (3) a gymnasium and an auditorium at the present Vernon High School; (4) a four-room high school at Lumby, with shops for home economics and industrial arts; (5) a two-room school at Langford; (6) a one-room school at Hinton (Cherryville); (7) a one-room addition to the Coldstream school.

HON. E. C. CARSON, Minister of Public Works, told the executive of the Vernon Board of Trade during a recent meeting that the Monashee road east of Lumby to the Arrow Lakes is definitely on the list of future projects for improvement. Start of the work depends upon the extent of aid from the Dominion Government in the Trans-Canada highway, the minister said.

AT BASQUE, near Kamloops, Nikola Rozek, a "displaced person," was drowned in the Thompson River trying to make good on a wager. Rozek offered to swim the river for $40, dove in and was swept away by the current. The Ukrainian was a C.N.R. extra-gang employee.

THREE ALDERMEN and two school trustees are to be elected at Kamloops Saturday, Dec. 18, during the civic elections. Nomination day will be December 9. City councilmen J. R. Halls, J. Bromley, Roy Mathews and W. H. B. Linell expire December 31 as do the school board terms of Deputy Chairman George Slater and Trustee A. F. Mathews.

IN A RECORD POLL, VERNON ratepayers signified their approval of the City of Vernon Fire Alarm By-law which will raise $20,000 for the installation of an adequate electric fire alarm system to serve all parts of the city within the municipal boundaries. The necessary equipment will be ordered at once.

STORAGE DAM IN BX District, designed to supply an additional 70,000,000 gallons of domestic water for the city of Vernon, now is completed. This quadruples the present supply.

The cost of this project was covered by a $110,000 money bill, ratified by the taxpayers last June.

FOUR BABIES WERE BORN in Vernon the same day (November 14) as the future King of the Commonwealth, the new-born son of Prince Philip and Princess Elizabeth. The four arrivals were: a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grantham, Vernon; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hartwig, Lumby; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reade, Vernon; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Herbert, Vernon.

PURCHASE OF ALL PROPERTIES and interests of The Pas Lumby Co. Ltd., Kamloops, has been made by Ken Long of Louis Creek, manager and part-owner of the newly-incorporated Kamloops Lumby Co. (1948) Ltd. Associated with Mr. Long in the purchase is Revelstoke Sawmill Co. Ltd. of Calgary. Construction of a sawmill and planing mill to replace the facilities destroyed by fire last May 18 will begin at once.

KAMLOOPS' NEW MEMORIAL ARENA is being built to last. The concrete going into the arena is 50 to 60 per cent above the strength required by the specifications, recent tests have shown.

A KAMLOOPS MAN, William J. Hess, 43, has been charged with manslaughter in connection with the death on Sunday, Nov. 21, of Alva Mullan, 58, of Chehalis, Wash., manager of Kamloops Frozen Food Lockers Ltd. Mullan died in Royal Inland Hospital at 4:30 a.m., Sunday, about four hours after he was allegedly involved in a street fight with Hess. Preliminary hearing has been set for December 1.

KAMLOOPS ARENA COMMISSION has recommended E. W. (Ted) Dill as the new arena manager to replace Wilf Hopkins, who resigned recently. The commission's choice will go before city council for formal appointment. Mr. Dill will take up his new duties on December 1.

THREE JUVENILES, who recently escaped from the Boys' Industrial Home at Coquitlam, were caught November 22 at Kamloops Junction by Investigator Percy Swift of the C.N. Railway police.

You asked

A regular series of questions and answers on house financing and construction.

Q. I was told the other day about a house design which seems to be just what I'm looking for. The number is 333-C, but I cannot find out who sells the blueprints. Can you help me?

A. Yes, house design No. 333-C is illustrated in "Sketch Designs" published by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. It is a simple, modern two-bedroom bungalow. Colonial design, planned to be built at a moderate cost, with spacious living room, ample clothes closets, linen closets and kitchen storage.

Q. What are the minimum sizes prescribed for doors in houses financed under the National Housing Act?

A. Side, rear and main entrance doors, vestibule doors, all utility room doors, doors to vestibules or entrance halls, and stair doors to habitable rooms in attic must be not less than two feet, eight inches wide. Bathroom doors must be not less than two feet wide, other room doors not less than two feet, six inches wide and clothes closet doors not less than two feet wide. It is recommended that the front entrance door be two inches in thickness and built up out of solid stock in preference to veneers, as the latter deteriorates when used out of doors.

Q. Is it possible to finance a prefabricated house under the National Housing Act?

A. Yes, National Housing Act loans are available to finance certain types of prefabricated and pre-cut houses. However, the method of construction must be approved in each instance. A list of manufacturers of prefabricated houses on which loans have been made under the National Housing Act may be obtained from any office of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Q. On what basis are National Housing Act loans repayable?

A. National Housing Act loans are repayable monthly, each payment to include principal, interest and one-twelfth of the estimated municipal and school taxes. It might be added that while the date for the commencement of repayment of principal is specified in the mortgage, payment of interest and taxes will not start later than two months after the property has been completed or occupied. And here is another point to bear in mind: Unless accrued taxes are paid in cash, tax payments for the first year may be relatively heavy.

(Questions on house financing and construction may be directed to this column and every effort will be made to answer them at an early date.)

MANY ATTEND TURKEY SUPPER AT WESTBANK

Two Hundred and Fifty People Attend Anniversary Dinner of United Church

SHOW FILMS

Pictures Taken by Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Reece in Old Country Prove Interesting

WESTBANK — Marking the tenth anniversary of Westbank United Church, members of the senior and junior women's auxiliaries held their annual turkey supper last Tuesday in Westbank Memorial Hall.

Under the capable direction of these women over 230 people were served and did full justice to the abundance of good things provided. The net proceeds amounted to over $75.

The highlight of the evening's entertainment was the showing by Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Reece, of the travelogue pictures taken on their recent trip to the Old Country.

Motoring through the countryside and armed with a movie camera, the travellers recorded the lovely, the old, and the new scenes through which they passed. All of these were shown on Tuesday and everyone privileged to see them appreciated the opportunity to the full.

First shown were technicolor scenes of the British Legion Carnival at Monmouth, of which Elizabeth Reece was chosen 1948 queen. The crowning ceremony and the parade were seen. There were also colored scenes of the "Bath and West" show at Cardiff, which was opened by Princess Elizabeth.

Then followed reels taken in various parts of England. Most eagerly watched for were "shots" of relatives of many Westbankers whose homes the travellers visited by request. Included were members of the families of Mrs. M. Lewis, Mrs. A. C. Hoskins and Mrs. G. W. Stubbs, and the business premises of a brother of Mrs. W. H. Hewlett at Gosport. Unfortunately the owner was absent on council business and thus Mr. and Mrs. Reece were not able to meet him.

M. G. Hicks' brother and his father waved to their Canadian relatives from the screen and many in the hall recognized "Jim" Hicks, who was an Canada and Westbank some years ago.

Another scene was the grave of P.O. George Pringle, in the village of Brangor. Mr. Pringle was the minister of Westbank United Church before joining the R.C.A.F. He was killed when his plane crashed near Bournemouth, January 24, 1943.

Historic abbeys and castles, rural scenes and thatched cottages, pictures of the homes and hotels where the travellers stayed, all were interesting to the audience, who enjoyed every moment of the showing.

Musical Program

Interpreting the film showings Mrs. J. L. Dobbin's pupils entertained the company with a musical program, as follows: piano solo, Chaminade's "Pierette"; Cherita Sellenrich; duet, "Baufox Pickaninies"; MacLachlan, Mildred and Darlene Fenton; solo, "Arpeggio Waltz"; Crawford, Hazel Hutton; duets (a) "A Peasant Dance," (b) "Folk Song" Markham Lee, Lois and Wayne Hardwick; solo, "Two Little Froglies"; H. L. Cramm, by Katherine Arakawa; duet, "Merry Bobolink"; Krogmann, by Betty and Sheila Hewlett; solo, "Butterflies"; Melecel (dedicated to Barbara Ann Scott) Katherine Sellenrich; trio's, (a) "In March Time" (b) "Swing"; Markham Lee, by Mrs. Dobbin, Mercedith Maxwell and Jimmy Maxwell; solo, "Pixies' Garotte"; A. L. Brown, by Marie Fearnley; duet, "Robin's Lullaby"; Krogmann, by Cherita Sellenrich and Sheila Hewlett; solo, "Dance of the Fireflies"; Pennington, by Jimmy Maxwell; duet, piano and violin, "Barcarolle," from Tales of Hoffman, by Lyle and Reggie Watts.

Ray, H. S. McDonald was master of ceremonies and made a special appeal for the personal support of the church by members, supporters and adherents.

OK. CENTRE SPONSORS SALE

OKANAGAN CENTRE — The Centre Women's Institute held a successful sale on Thursday evening last finishing the evening with ten tables of "court whist" and supper.

Winners at whist were Mrs. Motowyllo and Mrs. Gabel while Shirley Nuyens and Len Ulrich took the prizes at the junior tables.

The four stalls were well patronized being fairly well cleared by 9:30. Mrs. Van Ackerman and Mrs. Broadbent sold home-made candy; Mrs. Nuyens and Mrs. Reece served at the "variety" stall; Mrs. Hunter

"PAINT" AIDS CHILD'S TEETH

WINNIPEG (CP) — Youngsters here are having their teeth painted to prevent decay. The "paint" is fluoride.

Dr. W. G. Campbell, director of Manitoba dental services, said dentists here and in surrounding areas were using the chemical.

"Winnipeg, unfortunately, has little fluoride in its water and it has to be applied by dentists. It is effective only on the young teeth of children."

The dental service provides fluoride for four applications, painted on the teeth after they have been thoroughly cleaned and dried.

"Effective period of painting is about three years. Preliminary reports show it is effective," said Dr. Campbell.

He said his department took up the use of fluoride as a tooth preservative in 1947, when dentists were canvassed and told free supplies would be available to them.

3. In any event, Kelowna might be by-passed.

Dave Chapman Sr. briefly reviewed the history of the Naramata road from the time when it would have cost less than $150,000 to build the type of road customary about 40 years ago. Cost now would be in the millions.
Campaign to build such a road reached its most active stage about 10 years ago, with groups of local men making weekly forays and hewing a considerable chunk of road between Okanagan Mission and their objective.

Outbreak of World War II interrupted further efforts after a point about 10 miles south of Kelowna had been reached. Some 20 miles of terrain, considered as rugged as anywhere in this province, still remain between the southernmost point of the Kelowna end and the northernmost extremity of the Naramata section.

No Reduction in Rates
The board's efforts to obtain a reduction in ferry rates were reviewed. A letter from Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, Victoria, indicated there would be no reduction at the present time.

Mr. Carson advised that the ferry was operating at a steady loss and the system would require at least 30% more traffic before the loss would be offset. "The present schedule is generous but costly," Mr. Carson wrote. "There shouldn't be any tolls at all," said one member. "After all the ferry is part of the highway system." This matter was tabled for six months.

signed, there has not been a conference. And the agreement was not come up again until 1951. That's why I call it a sell-out," he declared.
The Saskatchewan automobile insurance plan was also thoroughly dealt with. The speaker denied that damaged cars have to be taken to a government garage before they can be repaired under the Saskatchewan government insurance scheme. "A garage was built and opened because the government was getting bills completely out of line. It was built so that the cost of repairs could be checked. The only time a car goes into a government garage is when it is totally wrecked. And the reason for that is so the government can salvage the parts," he said.

Mr. Winch denied that the insurance policy is only good in the prairie province. "The Saskatchewan insurance covers automobiles anywhere on the North American continent," he said. The C.C.F. leader refused claims the insurance scheme lost money last year. "After paying all claims the government made a profit of $1 million, and this in turn, was passed on to the people of the province," he admitted. Insurance scheme could not be on the same

GOV'T ASKED TO CONSTRUCT NEW HIGHWAY

Want Trans-Canada Highway Along South Route Which Would Eliminate Ferries

The B.C. government is being asked to find a highway route across the southern section of the province which would eliminate the necessity of ferries. This action has been taken by the Southern Trans-Canada Highway Association, which was formed at Nelson this summer. The association urged construction of a Trans-Canada highway from Winnipeg, Brandon, Lethbridge to Nelson and Vancouver.

"At a meeting in Nelson last week, the executive took the stand that the ferry systems along the route were definite handicaps to a first class highway system. These included the five-mile-long Kootenay lake crossing at Nelson and the one at Castlegar. It is suggested that a new highway be built from Nelson to Creston to eliminate the Kootenay Lake and Nelson crossings."

The meeting agreed that pressure should be brought to bear on Victoria to this end and that a strong delegation would go to Ottawa to urge the adoption of the Trans-Canada highway.

LOCAL BOWLERS WIN
Kelowna's Volcanic Gold Mines five-pinners Saturday night trounced a Pentleton picked team at Pentleton in a five-game series by 6143 pins to 5143.

basis as that in B.C., but "it could be on a par with Ontario," pointing out the death and accident rate in this province is much higher than in Saskatchewan.

Form Insurance Organization
Tacticians and the legislation enacted by the Saskatchewan government highlighted the addresses.

"I understand the Saskatchewan government will either lower the premium or extend the benefits of the Saskatchewan automobile insurance at the next session of the legislature," Winch declared. At the same time he charged that Blaine Fullerton, of Fullerton and White, Vancouver, has been appointed secretary-treasurer of a newly formed organization composed of insurance companies, for the sole purpose of fighting the "Saskatchewan insurance plan," because "the C.C.F. is getting too dangerous."

He charged the insurance companies in smaller towns and cities have to contribute $5 a year to "pay for the propaganda issued by this new organization," whereas Kelowna, New Westminster and Victoria have to donate $10 annually.

"Most of the premiums paid for insurance do not stay in B.C. but go to Eastern Canada," he charged. "It takes on a 60-40 basis—only you get the 40 and the east gets the 60."

O. L. Jones charged that the ad which appeared in the Kelowna Courier last Thursday, signed by a group of business men, was an attempt to exercise their franchise in the forthcoming by-election, was "misleading."

"I think it is a mistake to abstain from voting in an election. The ad gives the wrong impression. Many people who signed have since told me they did not know what they were signing," he said. Referring to the C.C.F. candidate, the M.P. said "if you elect Newsworth you will find an ally in furthering old age pensions. We have a candidate who has studied everything—a man who we want to represent us at Victoria. He is the choice of all our membership," he said.

Lack of Finances
Later Mr. Jones said that the C.C.F. is handicapped through lack of finances, and prior to taking a silver collection, urged everyone to give generously.

Mr. Woodworth referred to a statement made by Hon. Herbert Anscomb before Premier George Drew was elected head of the national Progressive-Conservative party, who he said, "the Conservatives are going to sweep Canada the same way as Dewey is going to sweep the U.S. Well," said Mr. Woodworth, "as a gallant pollster, we feel Mr. Anscomb's statement is a lie."

All eyes were turned to the other half of his prediction to come true and that is when the people of Canada sweep Drew and the Conservative party into oblivion.

Mr. Woodworth also referred to the British Commonwealth conference of prime ministers, which was attended by Prime Minister St. Laurent and Premier Byron Johnson.

"They must have felt vastly outnumbered by the other socialistic prime ministers," he declared. "But they all seemed to come back extremely healthy—in fact the only one that got sick from it all was Mackenzie King." Mr. Woodworth charged that the Pentiction, Trout and Mission Creeks were being used as a political football by the Coalitionists.

"I predicted the Coalition government would swing into action on Sawmill, Trout and Mission Creeks," he said, referring to stories in the Kelowna Courier.

Hospital Insurance
"I wish Mr. Johnson luck, but I hope the work will not slump when the results of the by-election are known," he said. Speaking on the hospital insurance scheme, Mr. Woodworth said "We in the C.C.F. feel that the hospital insurance scheme is a good plan... in fact as far back as 1929 when the Conservatives were in power, a royal commission was set up to deal with hospital insurance. In 1936 another commission was submitted and by an over-all majority, the people of B.C. approved the scheme. But what happened? Nothing."

"Each year the C.C.F. brought up the matter of health insurance, the plan got voted down. When we talk about regimentation and bureaucracy, they must be talking about themselves," he continued. He criticized the government for issuing a pamphlet regarding the hospital insurance scheme, which he said is issued with public funds and at the same time attacked the Saskatchewan government.

Elks Defeat Packers 4-3

KAMLOOPS — Kamloops Elks clipped the Kelowna Packers' three game winning streak here Saturday night with a driving 4-3 win in a scheduled Mainline-Okanagan Senior B Hockey League fixture.

The win again gives the Elks a first place tie with Vernon Canadians, with Kelowna one point behind.

W. Cook punched in what turned out to be the winning marker at the seven-minute point of the final period of a hard-checking, penalty-laden game. The near full house of local supporters saw referee Emmett Cronan hand out 13 minor penalties and three misconduct infractions to the clubs for a total of 50 minutes spent in duration.

Elks, quick to take to the attack, rapped in three goals in the opening 20 minutes to take a 3-0 lead. After a scoreless middle session, both clubs got down to serious hockey in the third. The family netted them three goals, but not quite enough to overtake the Hub City sextet.

Smith Gets Two
Gordon Smith broke the goose egg for Kelowna shortly after the start of the second period. But four minutes later Cook poked in his second goal of the night to make it 4-1 for the Elks.

Kelowna goals by Smith again and Tom Hoskins were a case of too little and too late as Kamloops chalked up another victory.

Penalties were handed out a dime a dozen in the final minutes as Kamloops' victory would spread the net for roughing and then Stewart was given an additional 10-minute misconduct penalty. Kelowna's third of the evening, McKay went to the sin bin for his fourth trip at one hour, just as the final whistle went.

Elks Here Tuesday
Elks will be here tomorrow night for their second appearance on home ice. A win for the Packers would put them on top again while a Kamloops' victory would spread the net for roughing and then Stewart was given an additional 10-minute misconduct penalty. Kelowna's third of the evening, McKay went to the sin bin for his fourth trip at one hour, just as the final whistle went.

"It is my opinion the differential will be removed," he concluded.

Mr. Monteith disclosed men in the city over 45 years of age were having difficulty finding employment. With the opening of the Hope-Princeton road and removal of the mountain differential more light industries would be established here, helping the employment situation, Mr. Monteith concluded.

Seven People Sentenced to Terms Ranging from Three to 18 Months

TWO DISMISSED
Judge J. R. Archibald Presides Over Week-Long Trial in Kelowna

Sentences ranging from three months hard labor to 18 months hard labor were imposed Friday by Judge J. R. Archibald, Kamloops, in County Court here, at the conclusion of the week-long trial of the Gibson family and three other persons on charges of theft and retaining.

Seven of the nine were convicted and sentenced during the week while the other two—Alfred J. Thompson, 23, and Gerald Gibson, 16—were cleared of all charges laid against them.

Sentenced on charges of:
1. Theft from Kelowna Kumfy Kourt, Sept. 12—Lloyd G. Gibson, 19, and Mrs. Louise Sims, 23, 18 months hard labor.

2. Possession of goods stolen from Kumfy Kourt: Lorne E. Gibson, 23, Mrs. Ida Gibson, 42, Gloria Gibson, 22, Mrs. Lois Souter, 24—18 months hard labor. Gerald Gibson was found not guilty; charge against William Gibson, 21, and Alfred Thompson dismissed.

3. Theft from Al Lord's auto camp, Rutland, July 28: Mrs. Scheer and Mrs. Sims, 18 months hard labor.

4. Possession of goods stolen from Lord's camp: Lorne Gibson and Mrs. Ida Gibson, three months hard labor. Lloyd and Gerald Gibson and Alfred Thompson dismissed.

In all there were 13 convictions and five dismissals.
E. C. Weddell, K.C., Kelowna, was crown prosecutor, while the accused conducted their own defence. The heavier sentences are all concurrent with any other sentence now being served.

CITY SELLS FOUR LOTS FOR $7,070

Four city lots on the corner of Abbott and Harvey Avenue have been sold to a client of Carruthers and Meikle, real estate agents, at the assessed value of $7,070.

City council Monday night accepted this offer despite the fact another client had tendered a cheque for the same amount. The real estate company offered $6,500 for the land, but city fathers were reluctant to let it go below the assessed value.

Alderman Dick Parkinson suggested that in future the city advertise the sale of land and that the property go to the highest bidder. It was pointed out, however, that the lots have been up for sale for some time. "Besides we are nearly out of the real estate business as we have no property left," added Mayor Hughes-Games.
